Separate Coach Bill Passed.

Special.

FRANKFORD, March 31.—The separate coach bill passed the Senate at 1 o'clock to-day by a vote of 18 to 10. There is hardly a doubt that it will pass the House by a decisive majority.

As the bill was without an emergency clause, it will not take effect, if it becomes a law, until 60 days after the adjournment of the present session.

The main provisions are that railroads shall provide separate coaches for white and colored passengers, equal in their appointments, and conductors shall have the power to put off their trains any passenger who refuses to occupy the car assigned him, and the roads shall not be liable for damages. The penalty is a fine against the railroad companies of from $500 to $1,500 for each failure to enforce the law.

Basnett & Co's Opening.

Nostruts of the business season more active in flow, larger profits than Basnett & Co's opening. Their annual spring opening was held last Saturday and the crowds that poured into their store all day were in many cases unable to make their purchases in the afternoon. Of course those who failed to be served on Saturday are now being served on Sunday, but the business is so good that the store is now open all day.

The pleasant weather has given additional impetus to the spring trade. The new line of goods is being advertised and the goods are always arranged with a state and attractiveness that catch the eye of the customer. This sale fairly excited all present customers. A band of music dispensed sweet strains from the cashiers' elevated office in the rear and decorations on every hand pleased the eye while the ear was being delighted. Headpiece pictures frame and other articles were presented as novelties to the customers.

In his regular space to-day Mr. Basnett has a few words himself for his patrons. Read what he says.

Mr. J. C. Basnett, Southern Passenger agent of the Chicago and Alton road, spent the day in the city. He was here on business looking to the K. P. excursion to Kansas City during the meeting of the Supreme Grand Lodge and the accompanying large delegations from this city will go to the lodge at Cedar Grove, Paducah and Guthrie will also be represented.

There is becoming an increased demand for good draft horses in the city. The big teams of the city are always up with the procession, in still the owner of Bay Prince, that excellent draft horse so popular in that section, and will present him to the public. The horse is a fine specimen of the breed and is well known to be public and its cash amount of $500,000. Parties desiring a home on the installment plan would do well to consult the officers.
